

THE PRINCETON REVIEW VS. BLUEPRINT: YOU BE THE JUDGE.

Princeton Review LSAT Ultimate students average a 12-POINT score increase from their first to best proctored practice test, when they take all six. These results are based on 24% of LSAT® Ultimate In Person students who took all six proctored practice exams. Practice test results do not necessarily predict performance on the actual LSAT.

And while we could go on about how effective LSAT Ultimate is, we prefer to let the numbers from the students who took all six practice tests tell the story.

TAKE A LOOK AT THE EVIDENCE

Score Improvement	The Princeton Review's LSAT Ultimate In Person Course	Blueprint's LSAT Classroom Course*
Average increase 1 st to best practice test	12 points	11 points
Average increase 1 st to last practice test	10 points	9 points
Students who improve at least 5 points	95%	91.6%
Students who improve at least 10 points	64%	57.8%
Students who improve at least 15 points	28%	21.7%

Give yourself a serious edge with the course that delivers the results you need—The Princeton Review's LSAT Ultimate course.

Get all the facts and find an Ultimate course near you at PrincetonReview.com/LSAT12Points.

800-2Review (800-273-8439)

*Based on Blueprint's website description of its 112 hour in-class LSAT course as of 11/18/13. Based on first to best practice test. LSAT is a registered trademark of the Law School Admission Council (LSAC). The Princeton Review is not affiliated with Princeton University or LSAC.

